

Table of Contents

Introduction

Corpus Cuba: Ever Imagined and Inscribed 478
Kenya C. Dworkin y Méndez, Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, PA

Representing Cuba: Sculpture, photography & the press

“Moriré de cara al sol:” Anna Hyatt Huntington’s Central Park Sculpture of José Martí on Horseback 484
Niria Leyva-Gutiérrez, Long Island University, Brookville, NY

Los retos del foto activismo, su traducción e interpretación: una mirada privilegiada hacia Cuba Profunda con Juan Antonio Madrazo 539
Kenya C. Dworkin y Méndez, Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, PA

El New York Times y Cuba en dos tiempos (1957-2014) 589
Silvia Álvarez-Curbelo, University of Puerto Rico, Río Piedras, PR

Cubana writers: Reimagining History & Reality

Identidades e imaginarios de nación cubana en The Agüero Sisters de Cristina García 614
Amanda Fleites Alfonso, Tulane University, New Orleans, LA

Independence and the By-products of War: Women Poets in Late Colonial Cuba 640
Ana García Chichester, University of Mary Washington, Fredericksburg, VA

“Mary conquered alone”: Marian Theology as a feminist device in Gómez de Avellaneda’s El Álbum cubano de lo bueno y lo bello 676
Jennifer Barlett Del Castillo, Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University, Tallahassee, FL

En busca del tiempo perdido en Memoria del silencio de Uva de Aragón 704
Ada Ortúzar-Young, Drew University, Madison, NJ

Rethinking ideology & economics: Popular culture, exoticism & the black market in Cuba

El Reggaetón de Los Salvajes: de la ideología a la cultura popular 724
Amauri Gutiérrez Coto, Lafayette College, Easton, PA

“Mi chino, mi china”: Exoticism and peripheral discourse: re-thinking orientalism within Cuban identity 766
Teresa Maite Villoria-Nolla, University of the West Indies, Mona, Jamaica

Importing Moderning: Foreign Fashion & Identity Making in Urban Cuba: About the Black Market of White Clothes 803
Julie Rausenberger, University of Antwerp, Belgium